Hon. T. L. Clark, a prominent attorney of Monticello, was in the city yesterday on legal business.

Emmett Wilson, who has been hearing testimony in the Louisville & Nashville rate cases at Louisville, is expected home today.

In referring to J. Walter Kehoe yesterday morning it was stated that Mr. Kehoe was of Panama City. This was an error. While he has a branch office at that place, his home is still in Pensacola.

J. W. Lanier, of Evansville, Ind., is in the city and may possibly spend the winter here.

John Epps, who was assaulted while sitting in a drug store, and who was conveyed to the hospital for treatment, will be removed to his room in the city Monday. At least, that was the determination last night.

I. B. Hilson and wife, of Milton, were in the city on business yesterday.

The fishing schooner Wallace McDonald, fitted with a gasoline engine, returned from the second trip to the snapper banks under such propulsion yesterday, and the crew reported great success in making the trip. Other snappers may shortly be thus fitted.

Thos. Minor, captain on one of the fishing smacks, was a party to a fight which occurred at a dance on Balfoz street saloon at 7 o'clock last night, and when Minor reached the police station his clothing was in tatters and his face was besmeared with blood. The other party was not arrested. Minor, arrested by Officer Brunner, was charged with being drunk and fighting.

The wood block paving people have received their new concrete mixing machine and had it working yesterday on Intendencia street eastward from Palafox street. Many stopped a few moments during the day to watch the process of mixture.

A car loaded with steel rails for one of the steamships now loading in port, left the track near the corner of Gregory and Tarragona street yesterday and a force of men were hours in getting things righted again. On account of repairs to the tracks, the company is now using only one line to the wharf.

Bond in the sum of $500 was made last night by friends of John Faust, charged with assaulting John Epps, and Faust was released from the county jail. For one day the bond was refused him, but Epps shows signs of recovering and the justice of the peace fixed the bond as named.

Citizens in the New City settlement reported last night that several head of stock nightly graze in the streets near their homes and they asked that an officer be sent to the scene to try and herd them up for the city pound. An officer and assistant were sent to the scene early in the night.

Distension Of The Stomach By Air

And Eructations of Gas Rapidly Relieved by Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Willow charcoal is the most important and the purest kind of charcoal obtainable. Wood consists of carbon, hydrogen and oxygen, and when heated in a room where the supply of air is limited, the more volatile matters are burned away, and most of the carbon remains.

In a finely divided state charcoal not only condenses gases to a marvelous extent, but also has the power of absorbing coloring matters. It is a very rapid absorbent of gases of every kind, and is much used in the dissecting rooms and wards of hospitals for the removal of offensive odors.

In rooms which have been recently or freshly painted, a pan or other receptacle of charcoal allowed to remain therein over night will completely absorb and remove all the disagreeable paint-odor.

Physicians frequently employ charcoal for destroying the fetor of wounds, for which purpose it is applied in the form of a powder poultice to gangrenous sores, ulcers, etc. It is also largely used in tooth-powders, as by its mechanical action it removes incrustations of the teeth, while by its chemical action it destroys fetor, or foulness of the breath.

In indigestion accompanied by flatulence, or gas on the stomach, and belching, and in the colic of infants, or older persons, as well as the so-called "lead-colic," or "painter's colic," charcoal is by far the best and most powerful remedy that can be used.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges should be used frequently or constantly by painters, or workers in lead, and all persons whose occupations make them liable to "lead-colic." They should also be employed by anyone who suffers from those annoying symptoms of indigestion, such as fermentation, decomposition of food, flatulence, or gas on the stomach, colicky pains, resulting from the over-distension of the intestines with gas, and the rumbling noises of the bowels with which so many dyspeptics suffer, and which prove so annoying and embarrassing, when occurring while in company.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are composed of pure willow charcoal mixed with honey, and are capable of absorbing one hundred times their own volume in gas; and by their rapid anti-fermentative, antiseptic, deodorizing and absorbent action, prevent the possibility of colic or other rumblings of gaseous products. They are absolutely harmless, and may be given freely to infants suffering from colic, and used just as freely by older persons who are annoyed by flatulence and gas eructations. In proof of the harmlessness of charcoal, a French physician was in the habit of taking fifteen ounces every day of his life, and recommended its abundant use to others.

Purchase a package of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges from your druggist today for 25 cents, and send us your name and address for free sample package. Address: F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

deputy sheriff, a warrant having been sworn out before Justice Nicholson by the aggrieved Greek. He is charged with larceny.

Last evening's report from the brick paving company stated that the North Hill belt circle had been completed. This was designed to mean that the brick paving has been finished northward from R. E. Lee square to DeSoto street, thence west to Barcelona street, where the brick paving had been finished some time ago. The circle now is on the streets named to Barcelona, thence southward to Jackson and thence eastward to R. E. Lee square. Work Monday morning will start on Palafox at the Wright street intersection.

MEMBERS OF HUNTING TEAM HAD BANQUET

GAME SUPPER ENJOYED BY MEMBERS OF CONCORDIA CLUB WHO PARTICIPATED IN THANKSGIVING HUNT—MANY TOASTS RESPONDED TO.

A game supper, one that was served in the best of style, was enjoyed by the forty or fifty members of the Concordia Club hunting team last night, and from 10 o'clock until midnight the club rooms were given over to the banquet.

Game was served in every manner, with refreshments suitable for the occasion, and numerous toasts were offered and responded to by those enjoying this annual supper.

The supper was served in the billiard and pool rooms, which were cleared for the occasion, and it was prepared in a tempting manner by the chef of the club. An orchestra was present and rendered music during the evening.

At midnight the banqueters departed for their homes, declaring the 1909 hunt the biggest of the successful events given by the club.

HARBOR, RIVER AND MARINE NEWS

Shipping Transactions and Notes of Interest Along the Bay Front.

The Norwegian bark Catharina, which arrived yesterday, 49 days from Belfast, reported upon arrival that during a storm at sea one man was lost overboard. The Catharina will load out for South America.

Manchuria Here.
The steamship Manchuria, which brought over a load of kalmi and which went to Mobile for part cargo, will be in port today to load out a Pensacola supply. The steamer will take timber here.

Man Was Hurt.
While docking yesterday the steamship Anselma de Larrinaga was the scene of a very serious accident. A sailor who was trying to get to the docks fell from a ladder and was badly hurt, his foot becoming jammed in some manner. The foot was broken and will keep him on crutches for some time, it was stated.

Tarpon Comes.
The steamer Tarpon was brought up to her berth on time yesterday from down the coast by Captain Barrow. The steamer brought up several hundred barrels of naval stores which were discharged into cars at Commandancia wharf. The steamer gets away this evening for Mobile.

Corfu Is Docked.
The steamship Corfu, which has been in the stream for some time, was docked at the west side of Commandancia wharf yesterday and will start immediately on her rail cargo. The Rockdale, the sister ship, is about ready for sea with rails and naval stores.

Vosgen Returning.
The German steamship Vosgen, which came here with kalmi and which was sent to Mobile to take part cargo, is returning to Pensacola to fill out and leave here today. She sailed from Mobile yesterday.

Two Sailed.
The steamship Waverlet, with lumber, and the steamship Parana, with cotton, sailed out of port yesterday. A large number are scheduled to leave today.

Albanian Was Fumigated.
The steamship Albanian, which, after reaching here, was ordered to New Orleans for cargo, was fumigated at that place, thus sustaining the contention of the Pensacola port physician that the vessel should undergo such a process because of the fact that the steamer had been recently trading at a plague-infected port. The fumigation was for the purpose of killing any rats aboard.

Another "Missing" Ship.
The British steamship Waratah, which left Port Natal, Africa, July 26 for London, since which time she has not been heard from, is another object lesson to prove that the sea, in spite of all modern invention of watertight bulkheads worked automatically, wireless telegraphy and the many other safety devices which have saved thousands of lives, is not yet shorn of its mystery. True, vessels so rarely leave port now never to be heard from again, that the mystery which surrounds one that makes the port of missing ships takes on greater importance than it did in former years. It is likely that the only solution that will ever be given to this vessel's disappearance is that of the British steamer Harlow passing on July 27, when 180 miles from Durban, a steamer supposed to be the Waratah, on fire, although she did not make out her name. This vessel was afterward destroyed by an explosion.
